STABS FELLOW WORKER IN BACK

Orban Waggoner Attacks Harry Levi at I. & C. Power Plant Early Today and Escapes

ILL-FEELING CAUSE GIVEN

Report Police Have is That Waggoner Resented Implication he was Not Doing Work Right

Ill-feeling between Harry Levi and Orban Waggoner, employees at the I. & C. power plant, said to have dated back for several weeks, culminated this morning when Waggoner stabbed Levi in the back. The affair took place shortly after six o'clock and a very little while after both had started work for the day.

Levi was injured severely and it is believed that the knife blade pierced one of his lungs. He was removed to his home, corner of Fifth and Arthur streets. He suffered great pain throughout most of the day, and while the attending physician believed he is not seriously hurt there is still a chance complications may arise that may result in his death.

Immediately following the cutting Waggoner left the power house and thus far has eluded the police. A warrant was issued for his arrest. He is charged with assault and battery with intent to kill. The police traced Waggoner to several different places this morning, but he was always a little ways ahead of them and succeeded in keeping out of sight. It is believed that he left the city. The police are hopeful, however, of capturing him. Waggoner is known to have bragged to some workmen in at least one quarter of the city that the police would never capture him and that he was leaving the city.

Chief Yakey obtained Levi's version of the affair, but did not push him for many of the details because the man was suffering so he could hardly talk. Levi, according to the story told the police, holds a position higher than Waggoner at the power house and has the power to dictate to Waggoner. One of the fires needed tending to and Waggoner's attention to this fact was called by Levi.

Waggoner, according to Levi, re-

FIGHT GOES TO SENATE

Brandeis Appointment is Recommended by Committee Today

(By United Press) Washington, May 24.—The senate judiciary committee today recommended the confirmation of Louis B. Brandeis as supreme court justice.

The vote was 10 to 8 on straight party lines. Senator Shields of Tennessee who arrived at the last moment voted with the other Democrats in favor of confirmation. The matter will go to the full senate where a protracted fight is in prospect.

Brandeis' name now has been under consideration by the senate nearly four months. A sub-committee of three Democrats and two Republicans split on party lines in favor of Brandeis after hearings in which more than a score of witnesses were heard.

DR. STUART WILL ATTRACT BIG CROWD

This is Expectation of School Authorities Who Have Arranged for Orator at Commencement

ALUMNI BANQUET TONIGHT

This year's commencement marking the close of the Rushville schools is expected to attract a larger crowd than usual because of the quality of the address which will be made. The speaker will be Dr. George R. Stuart, whose reputation as an orator is very fine here because he has been heard at the chautauquas on several occasions. He will speak on "Opportunity," which, it is believed, will offer him a wide latitude to display his ability as a popular lecturer. The commencement program will start promptly at eight o'clock Friday night at the Graham Annex auditorium and the preliminaries will be over by 8:15 when Dr. Stuart will deliver his address. The seats will be put on sale at eight o'clock tomorrow morning at Hargrove & Mullin's drug store.

The next to the last event of commencement week will be the alumni banquet in the basement of the Main Street Christian church this evening at 6:30 o'clock.

GRAND OLD NAME IS KEY TO FARCE GIVEN BY SENIORS

In Many Points "Facing the Music," in Which All Members of Cast Acquitted Themselves Unusually Well, Surpasses Marks of Amateur Production.

One Mrs. Smith living in the wrong home, another Mrs. Smith arriving home unexpectedly, a lost husband, a robbery and lost pocketbook in a fog on Lester Square, a detective on the trail of a band of robbers; all these are threads in the tangled plot worked out in production of "Facing the Music," given by the members of the Senior class at the Graham Annex last evening.

The cast played to a crowded house, appreciative of all the clever bits of dialogue and well worked out action. Under the direction of Tarkington Baker, the play in many points surpassed the marks of an amateur production. The lines, a number of which were clever in themselves were brought out to advantage by the action. Earl B. Marrett was faculty manager for the play. It fell to "The Other Mr. Smith," whose part was played by Forrest Jones, to explain all the mysterious moves in the play. The settings for all three acts are laid in the dining room in the apartment of Mr. and Mrs. John Smith. Mr. Smith staggers into his apartment about ten o'clock one morning in evening dress, grieving over the fact that his pocketbook and jewels had been taken from him, while he was in a fog in Lester Square. He has a faint recollection of some young lady suffering a similar fate. The part was played by Mr. Jones with art. With naturalness that fulfilled the comedy of the part, he played the tired and indifferent man and in his efforts to explain the situations to his wife with his "strong, honest, straightforward lies," became more

PARADE ONE OF DAY'S FEATURES

Program for Memorial Services of Third Regiment, U. R. K. of P. is Announced Today

TO BE HELD HERE ON JUNE 11

Archibald Hall Will Deliver Main Address at Ball Park—Union Lodge Memorial June 4

The announcement today of the program for the annual regimental memorial services of the Third regiment, Uniform Rank, Knights of Pythias, reveals that Sunday, June 11, will be a very busy day for members of Ivy Company No. 35 of this city, who will act as hosts. The First regiment, composed of companies in Indianapolis and vicinity, will also be guests at the memorial.

Coincident with the announcement of the program for the regimental memorial came the announcement today that the annual union lodge memorial services will not be abandoned this year as it was at first thought might be the case because the Knights of Pythias withdrew from the memorial this year, due to the fact that they had so much to do to prepare for their own memorial.

The Red Men, Odd Fellows and Modern Woodmen will go on with the union services here as usual on the first Sunday in June, the fourth. The Rev. Daniel Ryan, pastor of the M. E. church at Glenwood, will be the speaker. The Third regiment memorial is generally held on the first Sunday in June but was postponed one week on account of the custom of holding a union lodge memorial here.

The first thing on the program at the Third regiment memorial will be a meeting at 10:30 a. m., to consider plans for a regimental train to Nashville for the national encampment. To get the train, the united efforts of all companies in the company will be needed, it is stated. Railway passenger agents will be present to explain rates and other details.

The meeting this year will be of special importance because a colonel will be elected for a term of four years and the First Battalion will elect a major for a like term. This meeting will take place at 11:15 a. m. C. A. Phelps of Newcastle is the present colonel of the regiment.

At 1:15 p. m. officers school will be held. All officers are supposed to be present for pointers. At 2:15 the regiment will be formed at the K. of P. building and will march to the baseball park in South Main street where the main address will be delivered by Archibald Hall of Indianapolis.

Following the oration there will be a regimental inspection by Captain Johnson of Seymour, followed by a regimental review by General Gray of Covington and Colonel Frank Shellhouse of Indianapolis. General Gray, who commands the Indiana brigade, Uniform Rank, will have several members of his official family with him. Col. Shellhouse, who commands the First regiment, is making arrangements to have all of his regiment present.

Members of the subordinate lodges here will assist Ivy company in entertaining the guests.

Clarence Parmalle, who was seriously injured some time ago, in falling through a skylight, has returned from the hospital in Indianapolis where he was confined for several months and is able to be out. His injuries did not prove as serious as was at first thought.

MORE EVIDENCE IN STEWART CASE

Final Testimony is Heard This Afternoon in Suit to Remove Guardian

CONVERSATIONS RELATED

Tend to Impeach Evidence of Lowell Stewart, Son of Riley—Winship Allowance Asked

Additional evidence was heard by Judge Sparks today in the petition to remove Oscar Stewart as administrator of the estate of the late Riley Stewart. The case was expected to be finished this afternoon. Most of the evidence was heard one day recently, but owing to the fact that the defense desired to introduce several more witnesses the case was held open until today so that additional testimony might be given.

Quite an effort is being made to remove Oscar Stewart. The main contention is that he has an interest in the estate and might not give the children of the late Riley Stewart a fair show. He is also administrator of the estate of his mother.

A large part of the evidence today regarded conversations between Lowell Stewart, son of the late Riley Stewart, his sister, Mrs. Cleo DeHilla, Oscar and Wilson Stewart, that took place in the law office of Springer and Wiles in Connersville on the morning following the tragic death of Riley Stewart. The testimony for the most part tended to impeach that offered by Lowell Stewart. Allen Wiles, a member of the law firm that was first consulted following the killing of Riley Stewart, testified and told practically the same thing as did Mr. Springer. This conversation was to the effect that Lowell wanted Oscar Stewart to serve as administrator. Lowell Stewart has previously testified that he did not talk to the attorneys and that he did not suggest the name of his uncle as the prospective administrator. Mr. Wiles stated that the boy wanted a guardian and an administrator appointed even before his father was buried.

The court heard the evidence this morning on the motion for an allowance in the divorce suit of Mrs. Jessie Winship against Earl Winship. Mrs. Winship is asking for support money pending the final hearing and for money with which to prosecute her suit. The court took the evidence under advisement.

A motion was filed for a change of venue in the suit of Maynard M. Erb of Connersville against Jasper D. Case. The motion was filed by the plaintiff. The suit is based on an account, the demand being $3,500.

TO ESCAPE COURT MARTIAL

116 Militiamen Refusing to be Mustered in Get Another Chance

(By United Press) Washington, May 24.—The 116 militiamen who failed to respond to the muster for border duty will escape court martial if they present themselves in answer to a new call to be issued by President Wilson.

The new military bill which it is assumed the president will sign will abolish the offense with which the 116 are charged—failure to present themselves to be mustered in. Under the new law militiamen are automatically mustered in by the president's call. Hence the president will issue a new call for the 116.

A. B. IRVIN SLIGHTLY HURT

Thrown on Fender of Automobile When Hit While Crossing Street

Arthur B. Irvin was slightly hurt this morning when struck by an automobile driven by the Rev. Mr. Robbins of Gwynneville. The accident occurred at the corner of Third and Main streets. The automobile was going north in Main street and the driver failed to see an approaching I. & C. car and to avoid being struck turned suddenly into Third street. Mr. Irvin was crossing the street and did not succeed in getting out of the way of the auto. He was thrown back on the fender and escaped with a few minor bruises.

SAVINGS LIMIT IS INCREASED

Maximum of $500 Allowed in Postal Banks is Doubled in New Regulations Just Passed

ORDER IS RECEIVED HERE

Amendment Also Abolishes Limit of $100 Allowed to be Deposited in Any One Month

Postmaster G. P. Hunt, today announced changes in the postal savings regulations which increases the maximum sum for any individual to deposit from $500 to $1,000 and abolishes the restriction which allowed the deposit of no more than $100 by any one person in a single calendar month. The changes are made in an amendment to the postal savings act recently approved by President Wilson.

A postal savings depositor now may have an account amounting to $1,000 upon which the regular 2 percent interest will be paid. This enlargement of postal savings facilities, it is believed will be gratifying to thousands of depositors all over the United States who already have reached the $500 limit are eager to entrust more of their savings to the keeping of Uncle Sam.

Postmaster Hunt says that another feature of the amendment that will avoid further embarrassment to the public and to postal officials is the elimination of the limit on the amount that could be expected from a depositor monthly. Under the old law only $100 could be deposited in a single calendar month. The amendment abolishes this restriction.

While the postal savings system has proved a signal success, as shown by the fact that more than 500,000 depositors have more than $80,000,000, standing to their credit still it has fallen short of meeting the full demands of the public because of former restrictions.

SEE PEACE MOVE IN REPORTED CHANGE

Diplomats Believe Rumored Sending of VonBuelow to Washington Has That Significance

REPORT NOT CORROBORATED

(By United Press) London, May 24.—The Exchange Telegraph stated this afternoon that it was learned on good authority that Prince Von Buelow, former chancellor of the German Empire, is to become the German ambassador at Washington. A rearrangement of the German diplomatic corps is to be effected, the exchange dispatch said.

The statement of the English news agency is thus far uncorroborated from any source though it has been rumored several times that Ambassador Bernstorff might be called home to an important post.

Diplomats here said that if the report is true the sending of Von Buelow to Washington is another indication of Germany's plans to move for an early peace. Von Buelow's name has been frequently connected with peace moves especially during his long stay recently in Switzerland.

CROWD HAS NARROW ESCAPE

Automobile Driven by John Kiplinger Goes Into Ditch North of the City

An automobile driven by John Kiplinger, loaded with several of his Elk friends, and headed for Marion, left the road near the Thomas McManus farm north of the city today about noon when Mr. Kiplinger lost control of the machine. The heavy auto landed in the ditch but all escaped injury with the exception of Mr. Kiplinger, who was slightly injured.

Mr. Kiplinger and his party was late in leaving the city for the state meeting at Marion, but the accident delayed the trip even more. "Kip" admits having little experience in driving the machine, which is a new one, but believed he could make the trip to Marion. The party had the scare of their lives when the machine dashed into the ditch.

Accompanying Mr. Kiplinger were Perry Oneal, Dr. Frank M. Sparks and Lewis M. Sexton. The machine was not badly damaged. It was run back to Rushville on its own power.

IS INSPECTING STALLIONS HERE

C. W. Hickman, Jr., Week Here to Ascertain Whether State Law is Being Obeyed.

SHOULD HAVE GOOD HORSES

He Declares Rush County Should Produce Some of Best Because She Has the Stock.

C. W. Hickman, Jr., who is in this county this week as a representative of the Indiana Stallion Enrollment Board, says Rush county should produce some of the best horses in the state because the county has the foundation stock. He found several instances where the stallion enrollment law in regard to advertising stallions was being violated.

An act passed in 1913 makes it unlawful to offer or use for public service any stallion or jockey not enrolled by said board. The board verifies pedigrees or certificates of registry, inspects certificates of soundness of stallions for which enrollment is sought. Having done so the board issued a certificate of enrollment setting forth clearly the breeding and soundness of said stallion. The owner is required to have posted outside the barn where his stallion is kept and also upon the stall a poster which will give exactly the same information as is upon the certificate of enrollment. This is a big measure of protection to the mare owner.

The Indiana Stallion Enrollment law contains as strong a lien clause as has ever been exacted. By complying with the law and all its requirements the stallion owner has absolute protection against sale of the mare without his written consent. He has an absolute lien upon the offspring which may be sold if necessary to pay the service fee. Should any man sell a mare without obtaining the written consent of the owner of the stallion the service fee immediately becomes due. Furthermore, it is a criminal offense and the man making the sale is liable to fine or imprisonment.

Should the stallion owner not secure enrollment or should he in any way violate the law in his advertising or otherwise it is not required that the mare owner pay the service fee because the lien clause begins with the words: "Having complied with the provisions of this act."

There are very severe penalties for violation of this act. There is provided for each offense a fine of from $10.00 to $200.00 or imprisonment not to exceed sixty days.

Mr. Hickman states that the law is intended primarily to aid in horse improvement. The law is very much in favor over the state. Benefits are seen everywhere. He says that the outlook for good horses is splendid. Our state should produce the best horses and mules in the world.

BOY BIFFED OVER HEAD, SAYS OPPONENT RAN MUCH TOO FAST

"Why didn't you whip him?" asked the doctor when Irvin Hartwell, age fourteen, son of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Hartwell, presented himself at the physician's office to have a large wound on his forehead dressed.

"He ran too fast," replied the Hartwell boy, referring to Ralph Clark, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Clark, who biffed Irvin over the head with a beer bottle in a boy's fight in West Third street near the L. E. & W. depot.

The Hartwell boy was not badly hurt, but he had an ugly looking wound. It is understood that the scrape started over a game of marbles.

THE JOY OF MOTHERHOOD

Words of Encouragement to Childless Women.

Motherhood is woman's natural destiny, but many women are denied the happiness of children simply because of some curable derangement.

Among the many triumphs of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is its marvelous power to overcome such derangements, as evidenced by the following letter:

Worcester, Mass.—"I suffered from female ills, and was advised to have an operation, but a friend who had taken Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and who has six children, told me to try it. It has helped me so much that I am now well and have a baby boy who is the picture of health, and I thank the Vegetable Compound for my restoration to health."

—Mrs. BERT GARVEY, 20 Hacker St., Worcester, Mass.

In many other homes, once childless, there are now children because of the fact that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound makes women normal, healthy and strong.

Write to the Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co., Lynn, Mass., for advice—it will be confidential.

Futile Reform Laws.

The publicity caused by Mrs. Wilson's tips to Iowa waitresses on the occasion of the president's western tour several weeks ago served to call attention to the farcical nature of the state's anti-tipping law.

The "first lady of the land" wasn't the first offender against this Iowa statute. It has been ignored from the day of its enactment, seven months ago. In all that time only one arrest has been made for violation, and in that case the prosecution of the offender—a barber who accepted a gratuity—was attributed to a general enmity rather than zeal for law enforcement.

The barber was fined $5, and the patrons who gave it to him, and who was equally guilty before the law, was not arrested.

The public has refused to take the statute seriously. Even the legislature seems to regard it as a joke. Immediately after the law went into effect, the law-makers tipped waiters at a banquet and laughed at their own deliberate violation of the measure they had just voted for.

Hotel and restaurant proprietors were alarmed at first, but soon reconciled themselves to the situation. Shoe-shiners were afraid they would have to raise their pries to a dime, to get even for the lack of tips; but they haven't found it necessary.

It's another proof of the old truth which reformers are so slow in learning, that it's useless to enact any law that does not coincide with the will of the majority of the people. It is public opinion that enforces a law, not statute-book magic.

And the only way to eliminate the tipping evil, or any other evil, is to convince the public and change its habits.

The British government is reported to have prohibited the importation of cigars and cigarettes, as part of its campaign to keep British money at home to pay war expenses with. If this means that Englishmen are going to be deprived of their tobacco, there will be a bigger howl than was caused by conscription, liquor restrictions and all other war evils put together.

There are about a thousand different kinds of mosquitoes, but we are not hankering after the job of determining which one bites the hardest. You can have it.

With the women in the British Isles outnumbering the men by 2,100,000, what would you consider a fair market price for a husband?

There are times, forsooth, when the wisest thing we can say is to say nothing. And that, generally, is when we talk the loudest.

It would be poetic justice to require Villa to dig his own grave. But it is doubtful, however, if we could keep him in it.

The fellow who is always looking for a sinecure seldom gets beyond the first syllable.

Peace is in sight again, the only trouble being that we can't get hold of it.

Some of our persistent critics are themselves our best objects for criticism.

CARL C. FOUST EXPIRES

Farmer Living South of Carthage to be Buried Thursday

Carl C. Foust, age eighty-four years, died at his home two miles south of Carthage yesterday after a long illness. He was born and reared in this county and lived one mile south of Knightstown until eight or nine years ago when he moved to the farm he occupied at the time of his death. Mr. Foust is survived by the widow, Mary Jane Foust, and three children, Mrs. Edward Buscher of Carthage, Charles W. Foust of Greenfield and Mrs. Walter Bitner of Mays. The funeral will be held at the home Thursday afternoon at 1:30 o'clock and burial will take place in Glencove cemetery in Knightstown.

disclose her real name until he was ready for her to appear at the trial and testify.

Thus far the only testimony which in the remotest manner could be regarded as throwing any light on the identity of "K. Adams" was given by Dr. Jacob B. Cornell and his nephew Arthur S. Swinton, both of Somerville, N. J., who declared that Waite's actions on the morning of Mr. Peck's death were most unusual.

Swinton asserted that a short time previously, while he and his mother and sister were dining in the hotel where Waite since has admitted he had his "studio," they saw Waite with Mrs. Horton. Waite, he added, tried to avoid them, but seeing that a meeting was unavoidable he (Waite) remarked that Mrs. Horton was a nurse who was assisting him in an operation at a hospital.

Another witness who testified just before the trial was adjourned for the day was Gustave Cimotti, owner of a garage where Waite kept his automobile. Cimotti asserted that Waite came to him on March 20, after suspicion had been directed against him, and asked Cimotti to go to a bank next door and cash a check for him drawn to the order of the garage owner.

"Waite told me," said the witness "that he did not want to draw any money from the bank himself, because he was having some family trouble and he didn't care to be seen getting money from that particular bank."

Eugene O. Kane, who embalmed Mr. Peck's body, testified earlier in the day that Waite had given him $9,000 and subsequently had requested him "to put some arsenic in his embalming fluid and send it to the district attorney." This was after the autopsy on Mr. Peck's body had disclosed the presence of large quantities of arsenic in the vital organs of Waite's aged victim.

PECK'S WIFE ON STAND.

New York, May 24.—Mrs. Clara Lewis Peck Waite, wife of Dr. Arthur Warren Waite, took the stand in his murder trial today and gave testimony which she hopes will aid in sending him to the electric chair. She followed her brother Percy.

Dressed in black and veiled, Mrs. Waite walked firmly to the stand and gave her testimony in a low firm voice. Dr. Waite, who has confessed to the poisoning of her father and mother, looked first toward her and then toward the floor. He partly covered his face on the left side and did not move while she was on the stand. He seemed less at ease than at any time since the trial started.

New York, May 24.—Confronted by an unbroken chain of evidence which, the state claims, conclusively proves him guilty of the murder of his wealthy father-in-law, John E. Peck of Grand Rapids, Mich., Dr. Arthur Warren Waite, the young New York dentist, will go on the witness stand in an effort to save himself from death in the electric chair. This decision was reached last night by his counsel, at the end of the second day of his trial.

It also is expected that the mystery surrounding the identity of the person who sent a telegram to Percy Peck the day Waite's aged victim was to be buried in Grand Rapids, urging that an autopsy be held on the body, will be disclosed. The telegram gave the first intimation to the Peck family that there was anything wrong. It read:

"Suspicion aroused. Demand autopsy. Examine body. K. ADAMS."

District Attorney Edward Swann steadfastly has refused to divulge the identity of the sender of the telegram but in announcing a list of the witnesses who would be called by the state he included the name of "K. Adams."

It is said that the mysterious person is a woman outside this state and that she exacted a promise from the district attorney not to Grand Club, with Mrs. Sarah Mull at 605 North Perkins street in the afternoon.

A pleasantly informal dance was given in Glenwood last evening. Mitchell's orchestra from this city furnished the music.

The Happy-Go-Lucky Club which was to have met with Mrs. J. H. Frazee tomorrow has been postponed for this week.

An especially important meeting of Psi Iota Xi is to be held tomorrow evening at the home of Miss Laura Holden. Every member is urged to be present.

Extensive preparations are being made for the Commencement dance which is to be given in the Phi Delta Kappa hall on Friday evening. A number of out-of-town guests are expected to be among the dancers.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Caldwell have as guests, Mrs. H. E. Perkins of Chicago, J. M. Perkins of Rising Sun, and Miss Harriet Perkins of Rising Sun. Tomorrow they will motor to Newcastle, where Mrs. Caldwell's father, Mr. Perkins will attend the bankers' meeting.

Mr. and Mrs. Arno Newsom and daughter, Mary Eleanor, of Libertyville, Ill., Mr. and Mrs. Orange Newsom and daughter, Mary Louise, and Mrs. Oliver Newsom of Marion motored to Rush county Monday and spent the night with Perry Davis and daughter Edythe.

SOCIAL MEETING

The meeting of the Ladies Aid society of the United Presbyterian church, held yesterday with Mrs. Mary Fisher, was a purely social one. The fifteen ladies who were present spent the afternoon sewing, after which dainty refreshments were served. The next regular meeting will be held with Mrs. Waite at her home in North Morgan street.

Quite a number of local people witnessed the ball game played yesterday afternoon between musicians and the actors of the Mac Taff Stock Company which is playing here. It was a 11-inning game resulting in a score of 3 to 2. Charles Dinack, pitcher for one team allowed no hits for 8 innings. The teams have challenged any local baseball team for a game this week.

CALLED MEETING.

The purpose of the called meeting of the Missionary Society of the First Presbyterian church, held with Mrs. F. B. Stearns yesterday afternoon, was to decide definitely upon the pledge of the society to the mission fund for the year. The pledge exceeded last year's amount by 25 per cent, this year's pledge being $147 to home and foreign missions and $10 to an endowment fund. Twelve members of the society were present for the meeting, which was given over entirely to a business discussion.

METHODIST AID

At the meeting of the Ladies Aid society of the St. Paul's M. E. church held with Mrs. Fred Cochran yesterday afternoon, a business session was the first feature of the afternoon. A report of the rummage sale was given at this time, $36 being made at this time. It was also decided to adjourn for the summer after two more meetings are held. Twenty-four ladies were in attendance at the meeting. Delicious refreshments were served by the hostesses who were Mrs. Cochran, Mrs. Frank Flint, and Mrs. Robert Dyer.

PROFITABLE MEETING

Almost the entire evening was given over to a business discussion at the meeting of the B. Y. C. D. Class held with the Misses Carrie and Edith Downey last evening. Twenty-five members were present to take part in the discussions, most of which concerned projects for raising money for the new church. These deliberations and plans are to be made public soon. Only a short social period followed, during which games were played and refreshments were served. The next meeting of the class is to be held with Sam Gethmin in Third street, on two weeks from last night.

SHOWER AND PARTY

Miss Emaline Newlin and Miss Minnie Vaught were the hostesses at the pretty little party given last evening at the home of Mrs. O. C. Brann in honor of Miss Anna Cochran, a bride-to-be.

The affair was very informal, one of the cleverest diversions, being a continued story which was told by the guests. As a ball of cord was unwound, each guest stopped her part of the story as she came to a knot in the cord. Later in the evening, the guest of honor was presented with the gifts which each of the guests had brought. She received a number of dainty articles. Following this, refreshments were served at the dining table which was decorated with a pretty fern, one of the gifts for Miss Cochran.

The guests for the evening were Mrs. Belle Cosand, Mrs. Norm Norris, Mrs. Mary Shuck, Miss Ida Dixon, Mrs. O. C. Brann, and Mrs. A. L. Aldridge.

SCHOOL PICNICS

The last day of school was the cause for a celebration today when the pupils and teachers of the Graham Annex, Jackson School and

Havens School spent the afternoon in picnicing and forgetting school. The pupils of the Graham Annex had a frolic at the City park. They took their lunches with them and the picnic supper was the closing feature of the picnic.

At the Jackson building, the little folks had a miniature track meet in the playground, the older boys doing the pole vaulting and making the dashes. Games of all kinds were played by the youngsters, after which ice-cream, cake and punch were served.

Another plan was followed at the Havens building when the pupils formed groups and picniced, some at the Park Furniture factory, some near Circleville, while the members of the primary grade had folk dances and exercises on the playground. All the picnickers joined together later in the Havens School playground where they were served with ice-cream and cake.

On June 9th, an entertainment will be given in the Coliseum by Jesse Pugh and company. This news will be welcomed by the Rushville people who are always anxious to hear the local artist. The entertainment will be made of musical and dramatic and specialty numbers and sketches. Mr. Pugh will be assisted by some local musicians. It will be given under the auspices of the Young Men's Circle and The Loyal Daughters class of the Christian Sunday school. Tickets are now on sale from any of the members of these classes, the price being 25c.

First Day of the Republican National Convention.

(By United Press.)

Chicago, May 24.—All is in readiness for the thousands of women who will attend the Woman's Party convention here, June 5, 6, and 7, in answer to the call of the Congressional Union. Suffragists from all enfranchised states will determine how they can throw their votes in the next election in order to best serve the cause of nation-wide suffrage for women.

The last day of this convention will be the first day of the Republican convention.

The Union has just completed an invasion of the west undertaken to consolidate the Congressional Union branches in the already enfranchised states.

The work of organizing the convention is being pushed in every district in Chicago through the women's clubs, societies and industrial organizations.

Miss Alice Paul, national chairman, and a notable group of militant scouts are in charge. The activities are directed from "field" headquarters on Michigan Boulevard.

Miss Mabel Vernon of Delaware, who organized nearly half the enfranchised states in support of the federal amendment will arrive soon to direct a campaign of street meetings.

Miss Doris Stevens, head of the national organization department, is here in charge of the open air demonstrations and mass meetings that will punctuate the suffrage calendar between now and convention time.

Miss Elizabeth Elder of Philadelphia has taken charge of the information bureau and will later enroll all delegates. The work or directing the out of door publicity is in the hands of Miss S. Ada Flatman of London, England, one of Mrs. Pankhurst's lieutenants in the early days of the militant movement.

The program will be mainly in the hands of the voting women. Among the speakers will be Miss Maude Younger, member of the National Advisory Council of the Union, Mrs. Sara Bard Field, envoy from the Woman Voters convention in San Francisco and Mrs. William Kent, members of the National Executive committee, all of California; Miss Anne Martin of Nevada, member of the national legislative committee and Mrs. Dora Phelps Buell, state factory inspector of Colorado and member of the National Advisory Council of the Union.

A hospitality committee headed by Mrs. Clifford Wells, a prominent society woman, is in charge of the work of securing accommodations for the hosts who will begin to arrive in a few days. Unable to secure rooms in the fashionable hotels, the committee has leased a number of small suburban hotels.

Contrary to reports that the Union is a partisan organization, Miss Alice Paul, the national chairman declared today that the organization is strictly non-partisan and is working solely for nation wide enfranchisement of all women.

A review of the suffrage situation in the House shows, suffragists say, that the Democrats have blocked the amendment.

Miss Paul is explicit in giving reasons for the formation of the new party.

"If women who are Republicans simply help the Republican party, and women who are Democrats simply help the Democratic party," she said, "women's votes won't count for much. But when the political parties see before them a group of independent women voters who are standing together, it will make suffrage an issue."

Among the women who will head delegations from the "free" states are: Mrs. Eleanor S. Coit of Montana; Dr. Caroline Spencer of Colorado; Mrs. John S. Allen and Mrs.

Wallis Williams of Washington; Mrs. J. A. Kating of Oregon; Miss Margaret Tyler of Idaho; Mrs. W. H. Sawtelle and Mrs. E. B. Perrin of Arizona; Miss Gail Laughlin of California; Miss Anne Martin of Nevada and Mrs. Lillie Day Monroe of Kansas.

WILL BE BIGGEST IN YEARS

Berry Crop Gives Promise of Being Plentiful This Year.

The strawberry crop in Rush county will be the biggest in years, it is stated by many growers. It does not necessarily mean that the price will be lower than usual because the local crop is never big enough to supply the demand here. A few home grown berries have been marketed already and before the end of the week, it is expected that many will be brought to the local market. The recent rains were of immense benefit to the plants.

Other berry crops are also reported to be above the average this year. Wild bushes are loaded with blooms and it is now believed that hardly anything could prevent a bountiful crop.

complicated than ever. In the meantime, Mrs. Smith, the six months bride of the Rev. John Smith mistakes this for her own apartment, which is directly above, and makes herself at home. Miss Naomi Craig played the part of the devoted wife well. She portrayed the changing moods of Mrs. Smith with ability. It was to her, who was mistaken for the wife of "The Other Mr. Smith," that Miss Achsah Rutherford in the role of an attractive actress explained the incident of the previous night, his saving her from a robbery and his kindness to her. Naturally, knowing her husband was a minister, Mrs. Smith was horrified at his action.

These and a number of other amusing incidents come up, each being more comical because of the mistaken identity of Mrs. Smith. It is on this that the play turns. Her innocence of her position and the efforts of Mr. Smith and Dick Desmond to get her out of the house before the arrival of Mr. Smith's real wife, simply brought down the house with the clever bits of comedy. The solution of the plot is not brought about until the end of the last act, when it turns up that there are two Mr. John Smiths and Mrs. Smiths and that their apartments are in the same building.

Benjamin Cox, attired in the typical dress of a curate, as the Rev. John Smith, had lost all trace of a high school actor in his portrayal of the curate. His seriousness, deep voice, and excellent make-up brought out the fun of his part.

Dick Desmond, which was played by Chester Perin, was the guest of "The Other Mr. Smith" and throughout all the confusion continued his irresistible laugh. He worked out the care-free and likable young man with talent. Nora, the real wife of "The Other Mr. Smith," was played by Miss Gladys Bebout. She was natural, played her part with excellent abandonment and was popular with the audience.

Miss Martha Ruhlman in the role of the housekeeper also played her part well. Her ready answers brought out with wit gave her a good part which she played to good advantage.

A typical actress was Miss Achsah Rutherford. Not knowing the trouble she was causing she insisted upon explaining the robbery of which she and Mr. Smith were the victims.

In the role of a dignified colonel, Lucian Anderson, was fine. "Another pretty woman," was his favorite exclamation in the complicated scene where pretty women continued to appear. Their devotion to him as an uncle made his part a funny one.

Harry Schmalz, although in a different role from the funny ones he has usually played, was also good last evening as a detective. His self confidence and his concern in discovering the band of robbers brought out several embarrassing situations.

Although the financial result of the play is not definitely known as

SEES WATSON AS HARMONIZER

SAYS HE'S NEEDED IN SENATE

Story Intended For a Knock is Viewed as a Boost Because it Displayed His Ability.

George Lockwood, editor of the Muncie Press and one of the foremost and most virile editorial writers in Indiana, sees in the attempt recently to injure James E. Watson of this city with a story sent out to Washington, a come-back that displays Mr. Watson's ability as an organizer and harmonizer.

A dispatch was sent to a Louisville Democratic newspaper outlining Mr. Watson's activities in bringing about the defeat of the Philippine bill, which was an administration measure and which was opposed by most Republicans in congress. Mr. Watson's part in the defeat of the bill is commented upon by the Muncie Press as follows:

TAKEN TO ASYLUM

Deputy Sheriff Sullivan took James Arthur Powell to the asylum at Madison today. Mr. Powell was recently declared of unsound mind following several attempts to kill himself.

CROSSING REPAIRED

Street Commissioner Havens and his crew were busy today repairing the brick pavement on Main street at the intersection of the Pennsylvania railway. The brick had sunk below the level of the railroad crossing and it was necessary to remove several rows of brick.

WANT ADS BRING RESULTS

Watson.

If Mr. Watson got busy, as a Republican leader, and lined up the opposition to the foolish and menacing measure promising independence to the Philippine Islands, regardless of what conditions might be two or four years hence, and regardless of the lack of authority or right of the present Congress to pledge the action of a succeeding Congress in a matter of this kind, then he performed a patriotic service, and he is entitled along with the thirty Democrats who bolted the caucus that caused the Republican side of the House of Representatives to present a solid front against a democratic caucus measure for the first time in several years, then Mr. Watson's abilities as a harmonizer and leader are much needed at Washington. If Mr. Watson, as only the nominee of his party for the Senate in Indiana, can get things done at Washington in this remarkable way, what would it not mean to Indiana by way of legislative influence, to have Mr. Watson in the Senate, where he would at once take rank as the first orator in public life as well as the most proficient parliamentarian and magnetic party leader in Congress?

We have an idea that this kind of publicity will not hurt Mr. Watson. Every such knock is a boost.

STABS FELLOW WORKER IN BACK

FIGHT GOES TO SENATE
Brandeis Appointment is Recommended by Committee Today

(By United Press.)

Washington, May 24.—The senate judiciary committee today recommended the confirmation of Louis B. Brandeis as supreme court justice.

The vote was 10 to 8 on straight party lines. Senator Shields of Tennessee who arrived at the last moment voted with the other Democrats in favor of confirmation. The matter will go to the full senate where a protracted fight is in prospect.

Brandeis' name now has been under consideration by the senate nearly four months. A sub-committee of three Democrats and two Republicans split on party lines in favor of Brandeis after hearings in which more than a score of witnesses were heard.

DR. STUART WILL ATTRACT BIG CROWD

ALUMNI BANQUET TONIGHT

This year's commencement marking the close of the Rushville schools is expected to attract a larger crowd than usual because of the quality of the address which will be made. The speaker will be Dr. George R. Stuart, whose reputation as an orator is very fine here because he has been heard at the chautauqua on several occasions. He will speak on "Opportunity," which, it is believed, will offer him a wide latitude to display his ability as a popular lecturer. The commencement program will start promptly at eight o'clock Friday night at the Graham Annex auditorium and the preliminaries will be over by 8:15 when Dr. Stuart will deliver his address. The seats will be put on sale at eight o'clock tomorrow morning at Hargrove & Mullin's drug store.

The next to the last event of commencement week will be the alumni banquet in the basement of the Main Street Christian church this evening at 6:30 o'clock. Waggoner, according to Levi, replay.

It fell to "The Other Mr. Smith," whose part was played by Forrest Jones, to explain all the mysterious moves in the play. The settings for all three acts are laid in the dining room in the apartment of Mr. and Mrs. John Smith. Mr. Smith staggers into his apartment about ten o'clock one morning in evening dress, grieving over the fact that his pocketbook and jewels had been taken from him, while he was in a fog in Lester Square. He has a faint recollection of some young lady suffering a similar fate. The part was played by Mr. Jones with art. With naturalness that fulfilled the comedy of the part, he played the tired and indifferent man and in his efforts to explain the situations to his wife with his "strong, honest, straightforward lies," became more

One Mrs. Smith living in the wrong home, another Mrs. Smith arriving home unexpectedly, a lost husband, a robbery and lost pocketbook in a fog on Lester Square, a detective on the trail of a band of robbers; all these are threads in the tangled plot worked out in production of "Facing the Music," given by the members of the Senior class at the Graham Annex last evening.

The cast played to a crowded house, appreciative of all the clever bits of dialogue and well worked out action. Under the direction of Tarrington Baker, the play in many points surpassed the marks of an amateur production. The lines, a number of which were clever in themselves were brought out to advantage by the action. Earl B. Marrott was faculty manager for the

PARADE ONE OF DAY'S FEATURES IN STEWART CASE

Program for Memorial Services of Final Testimony is Heard This Afternoon in Suit to Remove Third Regiment, U. R. K. of P. Guardian

TO BE HELD HERE ON JUNE 11 CONVERSATIONS RELATED
Archibald Hall Will Deliver Main Address at Ball Park—Union Lodge Memorial June 4

Tend to Impeach Evidence of Lowell Stewart, Son of Riley—Winship Allowance Asked

Additional evidence was heard by Judge Sparks today in the petition to remove Oscar Stewart as administrator of the estate of the late Riley Stewart. The case was expected to be finished this afternoon. Most of the evidence was heard one day recently, but owing to the fact that the defense desired to introduce several more witnesses the case was held open until today so that additional testimony might be given.

Coincident with the announcement of the program for the regimental memorial came the announcement today that the annual union lodge memorial services will not be abandoned this year as it was at first thought might be the case because the Knights of Pythias withdrew from the memorial this year, due to the fact that they had so much to do to prepare for their own memorial.

The Red Men, Odd Fellows, and Modern Woodmen will go on with the union services here as usual on the first Sunday in June, the fourth. The Rev. Daniel Ryan, pastor of the M. E. church at Glenwood, will be the speaker. The Third regiment memorial is generally held on the first Sunday in June but was postponed one week on account of the custom of holding a union lodge memorial here.

The first thing on the program at the Third regiment memorial will be a meeting at 10:30 a. m., to consider plans for a regimental train to Nashville for the national encampment. To get the train, the united efforts of all companies in the company will be needed, it is stated. Railway passenger agents will be present to explain rates and other details.

The meeting this year will be of special importance because a colonel will be elected for a term of four years and the First Battalion will elect a major for a like term. This meeting will take place at 11:15 a. m. C. A. Phelps of Newcastle is the present colonel of the regiment.

At 1:15 p. m. officers school will be held. All officers are supposed to be present for pointers. At 2:15 the regiment will be formed at the K. of P. building and will march to the baseball park in South Main street where the main address will be delivered by Archibald Hall of Indianapolis.

Following the oration there will be a regimental inspection by Captain Johnson of Seymour, followed by a regimental review by General Gray of Covington and Colonel Frank Shellhouse of Indianapolis. General Gray, who commands the Indiana brigade, Uniform Rank, will have several members of his official family with him. Col. Shellhouse, who commands the First regiment, is making arrangements to have all of his regiment present.

Members of the subordinate lodge here will assist Ivy company in entertaining the guests.

Clarence Parmale, who was seriously injured some time ago, in falling through a skylight, has returned from the hospital in Indianapolis where he was confined for several months and is able to be out. His injuries did not prove as serious as was at first thought.

Orville Hood and Larry Knecht motored to Gwynneville today.

A. B. IRVIN SLIGHTLY HURT

Thrown on Fender of Automobile When Hit While Crossing Street

Arthur B. Irvin was slightly hurt this morning when struck by an automobile driven by the Rev. Mr. Robbins of Gwynneville. The accident occurred at the corner of Third and Main streets. The automobile was going north in Main street and the driver failed to see an approaching I. & C. car and to avoid being struck turned suddenly into Third street. Mr. Irvin was crossing the street and did not succeed in getting out of the way of the auto. He was thrown back on the fender and escaped with a few minor bruises.

SAVINGS LIMIT IS INCREASED

Maximum of $500 Allowed in Postal Banks is Doubled in New Regulations Just Passed

ORDER IS RECEIVED HERE
Amendment Also Abolishes Limit of $100 Allowed to be Deposited in Any One Month

Postmaster G. P. Hunt, today announced changes in the postal savings regulations which increases the maximum sum for any individual to deposit from $500 to $1,000 and abolishes the restriction which allowed the deposit of no more than $100 by any one person in a single calendar month. The changes are made in an amendment to the postal savings act recently approved by President Wilson.

A postal savings depositor now may have an account amounting to $1,000 upon which the regular 2 per cent interest will be paid. This enlargement of postal savings facilities, it is believed, will be gratifying to thousands of depositors all over the United States who already have reached the $500 limit are eager to entrust more of their savings to the keeping of Uncle Sam.

Postmaster Hunt says that another feature of the amendment that will avoid further embarrassment to the public and to postal officials is the elimination of the limit on the amount that could be expected from a depositor monthly. Under the old law only $100 could be deposited in a single calendar month. The amendment abolishes this restriction.

While the postal savings system has proved a signal success, as shown by the fact that more than 500,000 depositors have more than $80,000,000, standing to their credit still it has fallen short of meeting the full demands of the public because of former restrictions.

SEE PEACE MOVE IN REPORTED CHANGE

Diplomats Believe Rumored Sending of Von Buelow to Washington Has That Significance.

REPORT NOT CORROBORATED

(By United Press.) London, May 24.—The Exchange Telegraph stated this afternoon that it was learned on good authority that Prince Von Buelow, former chancellor of the German Empire, is to become the German ambassador at Washington. A rearrangement of the German diplomatic corps is to be effected, the exchange dispatch said. The statement of the English news agency is thus far uncorroborated from any source though it has been rumored several times that Ambassador Bernstorff might be called home to an important post.

Diplomats here said that if the report is true the sending of Von Buelow to Washington is another indication of Germany's plans to move for an early peace. Von Buelow's name has been frequently connected with peace moves especially during his long stay recently in Switzerland.

While the postal savings system has proved a signal success, as shown by the fact that more than 500,000 depositors have more than $80,000,000, standing to their credit still it has fallen short of meeting the full demands of the public because of former restrictions.

IS INSPECTING STALLIONS HERE

C. W. Hickman, Jr., Week Here to Ascertain Whether State Law is Being Obeyed.

SHOULD HAVE GOOD HORSES

He Declares Rush County Should Produce Some of Best Because She Has the Stock.

C. W. Hickman, Jr., who is in this county this week as a representative of the Indiana Stallion Enrollment Board, says Rush county should produce some of the best horses in the state because the county has the foundation stock. He found several instances where the stallion enrollment law in regard to advertising stallions was being violated.

An act passed in 1913 makes it unlawful to offer or use for public service any stallion or jockey not enrolled by said board. The board verifies pedigrees or certificates of registry, inspects certificates of soundness of stallions for which enrollment is sought. Having done so the board issued a certificate of enrollment setting forth clearly the breeding and soundness of said stallion. The owner is required to have posted outside the barn where his stallion is kept and also upon the stall a poster which will give exactly the same information as is upon the certificate of enrollment. This is a big measure of protection to the mare owner.

The Indiana Stallion Enrollment law contains as strong a lien clause as has ever been exacted. By complying with the law and all its requirements the stallion owner has absolute protection against sale of the mare without his written consent. He has an absolute lien upon the offspring which may be sold if necessary to pay the service fee. Should any man sell a mare without obtaining the written consent of the owner of the stallion the service fee immediately becomes due. Furthermore, it is a criminal offense and the man making the sale is liable to fine or imprisonment.

Should the stallion owner not secure enrollment or should he in any way violate the law in his advertising or otherwise it is not required that the mare owner pay the service fee because the lien clause begins with the words: "Having complied with the provisions of this act."

There are very severe penalties for violation of this act. There is provided for each offense a fine of from $10.00 to $200.00 or imprisonment not to exceed sixty days.

Mr. Hickman states that the law is intended primarily to aid in horse improvement. The law is very much in favor over the state. Benefits are seen everywhere. He says that the outlook for good horses is splendid. Our state should produce the best horses and mules in the world.

CARL C. FOUST EXPIRED

Farmer Living South of Carthage to be Buried Thursday

Carl C. Foust, age eighty-four years, died at his home two miles south of Carthage yesterday after a long illness. He was born and reared in this county and lived one mile south of Knightstown until eight or nine years ago when he moved to the farm he occupied at the time of his death. Mr. Foust is survived by the widow, Mary Jane Foust, and three children, Mrs. Edward Buscher of Carthage, Charles W. Foust of Greenfield and Mrs. Walter Bittner of Mays. The funeral will be held at the home Thursday afternoon at 1:30 o'clock and burial will take place in Glencove cemetery in Knightstown.

disclose her real name until he was ready for her to appear at the trial and testify.

Thus far the only testimony which in the remotest manner could be regarded as throwing any light on the identity of "K. Adams" was given by Dr. Jacob B. Cornell and his nephew Arthur S. Swinton, both of Somerville, N. J., who declared that Waite's actions on the morning of Mr. Peck's death were most unusual.

Swinton asserted that a short time previously, while he and his mother and sister were dining in the hotel where Waite since has admitted he had his "studio," they saw Waite with Mrs. Horton. Waite, he added, tried to avoid them, but seeing that a meeting was unavoidable he (Waite) remarked that Mrs. Horton was a nurse who was assisting him in an operation at a hospital.

Another witness who testified just before the trial was adjourned for the day was Gustave Cimotti, owner of a garage where Waite kept his automobile. Cimotti asserted that Waite came to him on March 20, after suspicion had been directed against him, and asked Cimotti to go to a bank next door and cash a check for him drawn to the order of the garage owner.

"Waite told me," said the witness, "that he did not want to draw any money from the bank himself, because he was having some family trouble and he didn't care to be seen getting money from that particular bank."

Eugene O. Kane, who embalmed Mr. Peck's body, testified earlier in the day that Waite had given him $9,000 and subsequently had requested him "to put some arsenic in his embalming fluid and send it to the district attorney." This was after the autopsy on Mr. Peck's body had disclosed the presence of large quantities of arsenic in the vital organs of Waite's aged victim.

WILL BE WITNESS AT HIS OWN TRIAL

Dr. A. W. Waite, Accused of Murdering Father-in-Law, Will Take Stand in Own Defense

MYSTERY TO BE EXPLAINED
Expected Person Who Sent Message
Causing Investigation Will Also be a Witness

PECK'S WIFE ON STAND.
New York, May 24.—Mrs. Clara Lewis Peck Waite, wife of Dr. Arthur Warren Waite, took the stand in his murder trial today and gave testimony which she hopes will aid in sending him to the electric chair. She followed her brother Percy.

Dressed in black and veiled, Mrs. Waite walked firmly to the stand and gave her testimony in a low firm voice. Dr. Waite, who has confessed to the poisoning of her father and mother, looked first toward her and then toward the floor. He partly covered his face on the left side and did not move while she was on the stand. He seemed less at ease than at any time since the trial started.

New York, May 24.—Confronted by an unbroken chain of evidence which the state claims, conclusively proves him guilty of the murder of his wealthy father-in-law, John E. Peck of Grand Rapids, Mich., Dr. Arthur Warren Waite, the young New York dentist, will go on the witness stand in an effort to save himself from death in the electric chair. This decision was reached last night by his counsel, at the end of the second day of his trial.

It also is expected that the mystery surrounding the identity of the person who sent a telegram to Percy Peck the day Waite's aged victim was to be buried in Grand Rapids, urging that an autopsy be held on the body, will be disclosed. The telegram gave the first intimation to the Peck family that there was anything wrong. It read:

"Suspicion aroused. Demand autopsy. Examine body. K. ADAMS."

District Attorney Edward Swann steadfastly has refused to divulge the identity of the sender of the telegram but in announcing a list of the witnesses who would be called by the state he included the name of "K. Adams."

It is said that the mysterious person is a woman outside this state and that she exacted a promise from the district attorney not to

What Is the Best Season for Painting?

That is a question we are often asked. If the surface to be painted is dry and the day is clear, any season is Good Painting Weather, provided the painter knows how to mix his paint to suit the temperature. An experience of twenty-five years has taught us how we can paint at any season of the year and guarantee satisfactory results. We use Carter's Pure White Lead and Oil, and are always at your service.

The meeting of the Ladies Aid society of the United Presbyterian church, held yesterday with Mrs. Mary Fisher, was a purely social one. The fifteen ladies who were present spent the afternoon sewing, after which dainty refreshments were served. The next regular meeting will be held with Mrs. Waite at her home in North Morgan street.

Quite a number of local people witnessed the ball game played yesterday afternoon between musicians and the actors of the Mac Taff Stock Company which is playing here. It was a 11-inning game resulting in a score of 3 to 2. Charles Dinack, pitcher for one team allowed no hits for 8 innings. The teams have challenged any local baseball team for a game this week.

SCHOOL PICNICS
The last day of school was the cause for a celebration today when the pupils and teachers of the Graham Annex, Jackson School and

Havens School spent the afternoon in picnicing and forgetting school. The pupils of the Graham Annex had a frolic at the City park. They took their lunches with them and the picnic supper was the closing feature of the picnic.

At the Jackson building, the little folks had a miniature track meet in the playground, the older boys doing the pole vaulting and making the dashes. Games of all kinds were played by the youngsters, after which ice-cream, cake and punch were served.

Another plan was followed at the Havens building when the pupils formed groups and picniced, some at the Park Furniture factory, some near Circleville, while the members of the primary grade had folk dances and exercises on the playground. All the picnickers joined together later in the Havens School playground where they were served with ice-cream and cake.

FOR CONVENTION

Suffragists From All States Will Attend National Meeting of Congressional Union.

TO REMAIN INDEPENDENT

Last Day of Convention Will be the First Day of the Republican National Convention.

(By United Press)

Chicago, May 24.—All is in readiness for the thousands of women who will attend the Woman's Party convention here, June 5, 6, and 7, in answer to the call of the Congressional Union. Suffragists from all enfranchised states will determine how they can throw their votes in the next election in order to best serve the cause of nation-wide suffrage for women.

The last day of this convention will be the first day of the Republican convention. The Union has just completed an invasion of the west undertaken to consolidate the Congressional Union branches in the already enfranchised states.

The work of organizing the convention is being pushed in every district in Chicago through the women's clubs, societies and industrial organizations.

Miss Alice Paul, national chairman, and a notable group of militant scouts are in charge. The activities are directed from "field" headquarters on Michigan Boulevard.

Miss Mabel Vernon of Delaware, who organized nearly half the enfranchised states in support of the federal amendment will arrive soon to direct a campaign of street meetings.

Miss Doris Stevens, head of the national organization department, is here in charge of the open air demonstrations and mass meetings that will punctuate the suffrage calendar between now and convention time.

Miss Elizabeth Elder of Philadelphia has taken charge of the information bureau and will later enroll all delegates. The work or directing the out of door publicity is in the hands of Miss S. Ada Flatman of London, England, one of Mrs. Pankhurst's lieutenants in the early days of the militant movement.

The program will be mainly in the hands of the voting women. Among the speakers will be Miss Maude Younger, member of the National Advisory Council of the Union, Mrs. Sara Bard Field, envoy from the Woman Voters convention in San Francisco and Mrs. William Kent, members of the National Executive committee, all of California; Miss Anne Martin of Nevada, member of the national legislative committee and Mrs. Dora Phelps Buell, state factory inspector of Colorado and member of the National Advisory Council of the Union.

A hospitality committee headed by Mrs. Clifford Wells, a prominent society woman, is in charge of the work of securing accommodations for the hosts who will begin to arrive in a few days. Unable to secure rooms in the fashionable hotels, the committee has leased a number of small suburban hotels.

Contrary to reports that the Union is a partisan organization, Miss Alice Paul, the national chairman declared today that the organization is strictly non-partisan and is working solely for nation wide enfranchisement of all women.

A review of the suffrage situation in the House shows, suffragists say, that the Democrats have blocked the amendment.

Miss Paul is explicit in giving reasons for the formation of the new party.

"If women who are Republicans simply help the Republican party, and women who are Democrats simply help the Democratic party," she said, "women's votes won't count for much. But when the political parties see before them a group of independent women voters who are standing together, it will make suffrage an issue."

Among the women who will head delegations from the "free" states are: Mrs. Eleanor S. Coit of Montana; Dr. Caroline Spencer of Colorado; Mrs. John S. Allen and Mrs.

complicated than ever. In the meantime, Mrs. Smith, the six months bride of the Rev. John Smith, mistakes this for her own apartment, which is directly above, and makes herself at home. Miss Naomi Craig played the part of the devoted wife well. She portrayed the changing moods of Mrs. Smith with ability. It was to her, who was mistaken for the wife of "The Other Mr. Smith," that Miss Achsa Rutherford in the role of an attractive actress explained the incident of the previous night, his saving her from a robbery and his kindness to her. Naturally, knowing her husband was a minister, Mrs. Smith was horrified at his action.

These and a number of other amusing incidents come up, each being more comical because of the mistaken identity of Mrs. Smith. It is on this that the play turns. Her innocence of her position and the efforts of Mr. Smith and Dick Desmond to get her out of the house before the arrival of Mr. Smith's real wife, simply brought down the house with the clever bits of comedy. The solution of the plot is not brought about until the end of the last act, when it turns up that there are two Mr. John Smiths and Mrs. Smiths and that their apartments are in the same building.

Benjamin Cox, attired in the typical dress of a curate, as the Rev. John Smith, had lost all trace of a high school actor in his portrayal of the curate. His seriousness, deep voice, and excellent make-up brought out the fun of his part.

Dick Desmond, which was played by Chester Perin, was the guest of "The Other Mr. Smith" and throughout all the confusion continued his irresistible laugh. He worked out the care-free and likable young man

Wayne Knit Silk Hosiery

New Creations For Wear With the New Costumes

Hosiery is more this year than a mere adjunct of the costume. It may sound the color note of the whole symphony; invariably it exerts an influence. Part of this originates in the shortness of the new skirts, making Hosiery more than usually prominent; but a good share, too, arises from the desire to have pretty stockings.

with talent. Nora, the real wife of the "Other Mr. Smith," was played by Miss Gladys Beabout. She was natural, played her part with excellent abandonment and was popular with the audience.

Miss Martha Ruhman in the role of the housekeeper also played her part well. Her ready answers brought out with wit gave her a good part which she played to good advantage.

A typical actress was Miss Achsa Rutherford. Not knowing the trouble she was causing she insisted upon explaining the robbery of which she and Mr. Smith were the victims.

In the role of a dignified colonel, Lucian Anderson, was fine. "Another pretty woman," was his favorite exclamation in the complicated scene where pretty women continued to appear. Their devotion to him as an uncle made his part a funny one. Harry Schmalzel, although in a different role from the funny ones he has usually played, was also good last evening as a detective. His self-confidence and his concern in discovering the band of robbers brought out several embarrassing situations.

Although the financial result of the play is not definitely known as yet, it is thought that about $60 were cleared.

sented the implication that he was not tending to his duties as fireman, and a few hot words passed. Levi stated that he never dreamed of Waggoner attacking him and went on about his work. Levi stated that while bending over a grate at one of the boilers Waggoner slipped up behind him and stabbed him in the back, using a dangerous looking knife. Other workmen interfered before more damage resulted.

Waggoner is a married man, and lives at 301 East Fifth street. As far as is known this is the first trouble he has ever had here. He is a son of Samuel Waggoner, chief engineer at the power house. Levi has never been in any trouble and has always been regarded as an industrious man. He has worked for the traction company for five or six years.

SEES WATSON AS HARMONIZER

SAYS HE'S NEEDED IN SENATE

Story Intended For a Knock is Viewed as a Boost Because it Displayed His Ability.

George Lockwood, editor of the Muncie Press and one of the foremost and most virile editorial writers in Indiana, sees in the attempt recently to injure James E. Watson of this city with a story sent out from Washington, a come-back that displays Mr. Watson's ability as an organizer and harmonizer.

A dispatch was sent to a Louisville Democratic newspaper outlining Mr. Watson's activities in bringing about the defeat of the Philippine bill, which was an administration measure and which was opposed by most Republicans in congress. Mr. Watson's part in the defeat of the bill is commented upon by the Muncie Press as follows:

Some of the Indiana Democratic papers are printing a story to the effect that it was the influence of James E. Watson, operating on the floor of the House of Representatives that lined up wavering Republicans against the Clarke amendment to the Jones Philippine bill, promising the Philippine Islands complete independence in from two to four years. It is evidently supposed that this story will hurt Mr.

Watson. If Mr. Watson got busy, as a Republican leader, and lined up the opposition to the foolish and menacing measure promising independence to the Philippine Islands, regardless of what conditions might be two or four years hence, and regardless of the lack of authority or right of the present Congress to pledge the action of a succeeding Congress in a matter of this kind, then he performed a patriotic service, and he is entitled along with the thirty Democrats who bolted the caucus that caused the Republican side of the House of Representatives to present a solid front against a democratic caucus measure for the first time in several years, then Mr. Watson's abilities as a harmonizer and leader are much needed at Washington. If Mr. Watson, as only the nominee of his party for the Senate in Indiana, can get things done at Washington in this remarkable way, what would it not mean to Indiana, by way of legislative influence, to have Mr. Watson in the Senate, where he would at once take rank as the first orator in public life as well as the most proficient parliamentary and magnetic party leader in Congress?

We have an idea that this kind of publicity will not hurt Mr. Watson. Every such knock is a boost.
